General Burgoyne's March

Named after Gen. John Burgoyne (1722-1792), this piece is written in the style of British regimental marches of the 18th Century but probably has its roots in Colonial America. Burgoyne joined the British Army at an early age. By 1777 he was in command of British forces invading the American colonies from Canada. With about 8000 men, including seven regiments of British and 3000 Germans, Burgoyne reached Ticonderoga, New York, July 1st. After occupying Fort Ticonderoga, for which he was made a lieutenant general, his army took Fort Edward July 31st and advanced toward Albany. Surrounded by American forces at Saratoga, he surrendered October 17th, 1777.

The first system of the musical score is in 4/4 time. The right hand (treble clef) begins with a triplet of eighth notes (G4, A4, B4) marked with a '3' and a slur. The piece is marked 'I 1st time ff' and 'II 2nd time mf'. The left hand (bass clef) starts with a whole note chord (G3, B2) and then plays a series of chords and single notes. A 'Ped 16', 8' mf' instruction is placed below the bass line. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The second system continues the piece. The right hand features a triplet of eighth notes (B4, C5, D5) marked with a '3' and a slur. A repeat sign is present, with 'I - II' written below it. The left hand continues with chords and single notes, including a triplet of eighth notes (G3, A3, B3) marked with a '3'. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The third system continues the piece. The right hand has a triplet of eighth notes (E5, F5, G5) marked with a '3' and a slur. The left hand continues with chords and single notes, including a triplet of eighth notes (C4, D4, E4) marked with a '3'. The system concludes with a double bar line.
